Your English teacher has posted the syllabus for the semester informing all students they must register with the Tutoring and Writing Center (TWC). For more information please speak with a writing coach at the TWC.

After leaving the Business Office you notice a huge error. You were charged for a single dorm room instead of a double. Please return to the Business Office immediately and correct the error.

Congrats! During freshman orientation, you win the grand prize in the drawing: a mini refrigerator, bed sheets, towels, a $100 gift card to the GEAR UP U Wings-Things n' More restaurant, and box seats for the first home football game.

Your best friend informs you of a work-study opportunity in the prestigious Presidential Center. Please proceed to the Financial Aid Office for more information.

Your immunization records have not been received to complete your full admissions requirements. Everything is now on hold. Please rectify your situation immediately.

On your first day during orientation at the university you receive a parking ticket because you parked in the faculty/staff lot A. Please proceed to the Business Office to pay.

Because of the volunteer hours you did during senior year in high school, the GEAR UP University Alumni Association has awarded you the Giver Scholarship—$1,500 to be used in the Campus Bookstore. Please proceed to the Financial Aid Office to accept the award.

The Campus Bookstore called to say you've won the midnight drawing for the new iPad Pro with case, keypad, and a two-year warranty. Hurry over to claim your prize, and be sure you have your GEAR UP U ID to do so.

You've lost your University ID and now you can no longer eat, attend athletic events, enter dorms after hours, or use the recreation center. Now what will you do?
